POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

As an umbrella for a rainy day, and in keeping with Governor Warren's inaugural warning that the fat treasury balance must be "lifted above the dissipating reach of grab-bag tactics," there's a quiet movement on foot in the State Legislature to "freeze" at least 50 million of the present 70-million-dollar State surplus in a special fund—earmarked for use in meeting post-war problems!

While Governor Warren has not indicated his attitude toward the plan, there are reports that he will favor some such program for conserving the state's surplus and providing a bulwark against after-the-war emergencies.

An alternative program, still with many advocates in the Legislature, is the so-called Dixwell Pierce plan, which contemplates distributing $35,000,000 to $50,000,000 of the surplus to the various counties to permit a reduction in taxes on common property. It would be stipulated under the program that no county could share in the refund unless it passed the saving along in an immediate reduction of county taxes.

Myriad proposals for reducing state taxes already are before the Legislature, with every indication that a substantial cut in the State Income Tax (as a partial offset against drastic increases in the Federal tax) is likely. Other state taxes also are due for reductions, but there will undoubtedly be weeks of study and debate before an agreement is reached as to which levies should be lowered.

Reorganization of the state Railroad commission has been quietly effected since former Governor Olson's final appointment. Frank W. Clark, assumed his place on the board, with Frank Havenner, former San Francisco congressman, as president for the coming year. Justus Craemer and Carl C. Baker, the two Republican members of the board, both voted for Havenner. In fact, Baker placed Havenner in nomination for the presidency, with Richard Sachse, an Olson appointee, seconding the motion.

Clark, who served as Director of the State Department of Public Works during the Olson Administration, was for many years an irrigation engineer in Los Angeles, and was later engaged in the contracting and rock and gravel business. Sachse, who had served as director of Natural Resources during the early part of the Olson administration, was at one time a railroad construction engineer, later an engineer for the United States Bureau of Reclamation. He was appointed assistant engineer of the State Railroad commission during Hiram W. Johnson's administration as Governor, later became chief engineer and serv-

The car was pushed away from the Union Service station, leaving a trail of fire for half a block down Central avenue where the volunteers got in their good work. Damage to the interior of the vehicle was slight, but four nearly new tires were ruined and the paint on the body was damaged in spots.

MUM IS THE WORD!

On battle fronts every day men risk their lives to discover the location and strength of the military units of the enemy. Yet at home, too many of us are presenting the enemy with information of the same military value, the office of censorship says in a statement.

This is the information which individuals as well as newspapers are asked not to tell the enemy:

DO NOT TELL the names of ships upon which sailors serve.

DO NOT TELL the troop units in which soldiers serve overseas.

There is no objection to revealing that Pvt. John Jones is in Australia or that Seaman Tom Brown saw action in the Atlantic, but there is military information which endangers the lives of American fighting men in stating that Pvt. John Jones, "Co. C, 500th Infantry," is in Australia, or Seaman Tom Brown, "Aboard the U. S. S. Wisconsin," is in the Atlantic.

The office of censorship says: "We ask editors not to publish these troop identifications, and we ask parents and relatives not to reveal them. Don't give the enemy anything that may lengthen the war!"

ADS ARE AIDS

War Ration Book No. 2, for which we'll sign up some time before the end of January, was one of the world's biggest printing jobs. To service a populace of 134 million persons, 150 million books were printed!

When the point system holds sway, we shall be enormously aided if we read thoughtfully the advertisements offered in our newspapers, before going to market. Advertising did a valuable job in our newspapers in keeping the public correctly informed in 1942, as well as in promoting patriotic purposes such as the scrap drive and the Victory Fund. Through its services we learned how to preserve household equipment that cannot be replaced for the duration.

And life grows no easier, what with transportation and food shortage problems. So, if we know in advance of going to shop, what we can get and what coupons we shall need, much time and patience will be saved for ourselves and the store clerks. Food stores have maintained a fine service of listing their food supplies for the benefit of a public bewildered by so many sudden changes. Reading food ads will save us from trying to buy something that's "gone to war," or from trying to spend coupon 25 when it's 27 we need!

It took a month just to print those ration books. And it would take three 40-car freight trains, loaded to the gunwhales, to pack them all in. That's a lot of coupons, and we shall need all the help we can get in using them correctly.

CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK

The entrance into Congress of blonde and beautiful Clare Booth Luce and Will Rogers, Jr., son of the beloved humorist, should pep things up! Mrs. Luce, chatting to a neighbor, failed to respond to the first call, and Rep. Rogers made his maiden speech at 3:05 p. m. "Mr. Speaker," said he, "I move the House do now adjourn."

Some 100 of the East Indian newspapers went on a one-day strike last week in protest against censorship of incidents in the central provinces some months ago. The All-India Newspaper Editors' Conference said the protest was aimed at censorship of activities of the authorities in quelling an outbreak in Chinar. The desire to be well informed is always a symptom of democracy and should be fostered.

RESERVES USED UP?

Losses suffered by Germany in the last two months have probably wiped out the Reich's reserve of 900,000 men, thus forcing the Axis on the defensive everywhere. This should deprive them of the initiative during 1943, according to a noted British commentator. Most of these reserves were sent to Russia, but additional fortifying of French territory, hitherto unoccupied, drew off large numbers. The new North African front in Tunisia naturally occupies some of the best troops and many squadrons of aircraft. Widely strung out garrisons for Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium and northern France must be maintained. Germany must watch her ground in Poland, Czechoslovakia, the Baltic States and Western Russia—and there are Yugoslavia and Greece. You're not in as good a position to hit when you lie sprawled all over the ground as when you're on your toes at the edge of the ring.

You can thank God every morning when you get up that you've got something to do that day that's gotta be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, can't help but make you more temp'rate and self-controlled.

Morgan Twins Are Inducted Into U. S. Army

Monday afternoon the home of Mrs. Avis Burch on South Second street, was the scene of a going-away party honoring her twin sons, Wilford and Daniel Morgan, at which fellow members of the "Termites" were present. The Morgan boys have been inducted into the army and leave Friday for Monterey.

Wilford and Daniel, who are 19, are following in the footsteps of their father, Sergeant Wilford W. Morgan, who served three years in the A. E. F., World War I. Sgt. Morgan was wounded in action near Soissons, France and was cited for gallantry and especially meritorious services Jan. 1, 1920. He died March 8, 1934 in Utah, as a result of the wounds received and was buried at Pocatello, Idaho with full military honors.

Friends and relatives, including their grandmother, Mrs. Emma Doidge, who is here from Los Angeles to see them off, speed the boys on their way and wish them a happy and victorious return.

Cyril Peterman Is Transferred to Redwood City

Cyril Peterman, who has managed the local Sprouse-Reitz store for the past year and a half, has been transferred to Redwood City. This move is a substantial step up as he will have eight clerks under his direction. He and Mrs. Peterman plan to leave tomorrow.

Peterman is a popular member of the Kiwanis club and president of the chamber of commerce.

RANCHERS DONATE SCRAP

These iron wagon wheels were part of 34 tons of scrap donated by the Ferretto Brothers to the scrap campaign and shown being loaded into trucks at the Ferretto Ranch on the Carson River, east of Dayton, Nev., for trucking to a collection depot. Note the acetylene tank aboard the truck for cutting up the larger pieces into hunks small enough to drop down Hitler's throat.

THANK YOU!

The people who live in the cities, towns and villages along Southern Pacific's lines in the West have just provided a fine example of war-time cooperation.

We think this cooperation deserves recognition and we want to say "thank you" . . . since Southern Pacific was primarily concerned. And we're quite sure the many thousands of men in uniform who benefitted too, would also like to join us in this expression of appreciation.

Early in December we were faced with the problem of providing transportation during the holidays for a very large number of men in the armed services who were to be given holiday furloughs. Because of the pressure of war traffic on our equipment . . . cars and locomotives . . . we knew that we could not provide transportation for all these service men and the normal number of civilian holiday travelers too.

So we arranged a somewhat drastic and extensive program requiring coach reservations for virtually all trains, and set aside a major portion of both Pullman and coach space for the service men. Then we ran advertising telling people what our problem was, and why we could not take care of everyone who would like to travel during the holidays. We asked people not to "Try the Train".

As a result many people gave up holiday trips they very much wanted to make. The amount of civilian travel, compared with December, 1941, was considerably reduced and we took care of the service men in good shape. There was comparatively little congestion, and all essential travel was accommodated.

So we know that people generally have cooperated . . . and we give you all a hearty "thank you."

May we also express our appreciation at this time for your considerate and understanding attitude towards Southern Pacific and its service during the last twelve months?

We hope you will continue to confine your trips, in 1943, to essential travel.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"Mrs. Parkington" by Louis
Bromfield.

Mr. Bromfield is a story teller. Those of you who have read "The Rains Came," "A Night in Bombay" and "Until The Day Break" need not be told that in this author's books his characters dominate the scenes, the characters being subordinate only to the main theme of the tale. "Mrs.
Parkington" is no exception to Mr. Bromfield's previous best-sellers. To be more specific Mrs. Parkington is the whole book—the theme and everything.

At the age of eighty-four,
Mrs. Parkington is as vivacious, energetic and gay as she was as seventeen. She was married when she was seventeen to a fabulously rich
and notorious gentleman twelve years her senior. She did not discover that she deeply loved "The Major" until after she was married to him
some few years, but each year enriched his affection and despite his errant inclinations
and his inherent ruthlessness
she loved him with all her heart until the day he died.

To Mrs. Parkington and the Major were born several children, but to the parents' sad discovery, particularly
Mrs. Parkington's, not one lived up to their fond hopes.
In the material substances of this earthly life dear Mrs.
Parkington was more than amply endowed. Her husband made money seemingly by touch alone. She never knew a moment's anxiety for things that money could buy. Despite that fact, she was no prude and lived to profit by her good fortune. In her great granddaughter, Jane, did she realize the only spark of love and contentment with any of her off-spring. The rest of them she despised, because they were a sorry and disappointing lot who had inherited all the arrogance but one of the salty lustiness, the unscrupulousness, but not the daring that had won the Major, the friendship of Edward VII and had made her love
him to the end.

"Mrs. Parkington" is another one of those books that,
once read, will be your friend
as long as memory will last.

Lemon Beverage Stars At Aeronautical Party

By BETTY BARCLAY

THOSE who are air-minded, who work in airplane industries, or who are just keeping up with the many international activities of leading airlines will be pleasantly surprised when served this attractive snack at a newer type of party—an aeronautical party in keeping with the times. It's a nutritive combination of simple foods easily prepared yet presenting the sky ride idea in a novel way.

The service pictured is typical of that which might be served a passenger on a regular cross country flight and the model Clipper and South American map lend travel atmosphere which is also further carried out through the miniature flags of our many good neighbor countries across the sea.
Citrus beverages are of special importance to air travel for they contain helpful fruit acids. These acids give the delicious refreshing flavor to the juices and act to stimulate the appetite and to aid digestion . . . both important factors in above-the-cloud transportation.

Citrus fruits, namely oranges
and lemons, contain many beneficial elements, which make them
popular among people anywhere.
They're chock full of protective vitamins, being particularly rich in vitamin C which must be replenished daily. So a lemon beverage is "just right" for a stay-at-home party as well as for those flying.
Here are our suggestions for delightful refreshments—A hot Lemon Sky Beverage and tasty Shortbread Cookies. Would you like the recipes so you may serve the combination soon?

Hot Lemon Sky Beverage

(Serves 6)

1 1/2 cups fresh lemon juice
6 cups boiling water
Sugar or honey to taste
Lemon slices for garnish
6 cinnamon sticks, if desired Add lemon juice and sugar or honey to boiling water. Stir to dissolve. Serve hot with a lemon slice floating in each serving. If desired, cinnamon sticks may be used as sippers to add a spicy touch to the beverage.

Shortbread Cookies

1 cup butter or other shortening
6 tablespoons powdered sugar
2 cups flour
1 cup nuts, ground
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
Cream butter or other shortening and sugar. Stir in flour and nuts. Add flavorings. Form into desired shapes. Bake at 250-300 degrees F. until thoroughly baked but not browned. When stone cold shake with powdered sugar for variety, if desired.

The flags as a centerpiece offer travel conversation. Your guests in party quiz form may be asked to identify the countries for which they stand. Now more than ever before, the recognition of the flags of various countries is important.

INCOME TAX INFORMATION

The Revenue Act of 1942 requires income tax returns to be filed by single persons, or married persons not living with husband or wife, having a gross income of $500 or over; and by married persons living together having a combined gross income of $1,200 or more.

Persons subject to the Federal income tax must report their income to the Government on forms or blanks, prescribed by regulations. These forms are obtainable from any Collector of Internal Revenue, and generally from any bank. For individuals, two forms are used, depending upon the amount and source of income to be reported.

Form 1040. This form is intended for general use of individuals who are citizens of the United States, or residents of this country, whether citizens or not. It contains spaces to show the amount of income from various sources, deductions allowable, exemptions and credits, and computation of tax liability.

Form 1040A. This is a simplified report, which may, at the option of the tax payer who makes his return on the cash basis, be filed instead of form 1040 by citizens whose gross income was $3,000 or less provided all this income consists wholly of one or more of the following: salary, wages, dividends, interest, or annuities. This form has no entries for deductions allowable, since the taxes indicated in the table on the back are computed after taking into account what have been considered average deductions for persons of this income class.

With each return form is a set of instructions, and these should be carefully read by the taxpayer before making his return.

Returns for the calendar year 1942 must be filed not later than March 15, 1943. They may be filed by mailing to the Collector of Internal Revenue of the appropriate district in which is located the legal residence or principal place of business of the taxpayer.

Continuing Letters From Ruth Cowles

June 14, 1942

This evening we had our second trial black-out—much more successful than the last one. We are so far out of town here that we cannot hear the warning sirens, but have to depend on our watches. I presume that some sort of signal will be arranged for an actual air-raid. Of course Alexandra is blacked out to a large degree in any case, but there are braziers and candle lights to contend with. It is a comfort to see such gorgeous sunsets as we have had during the past week, calm and eternal in spite of man's little upheavals—little when measured with eternity, though catastrophic at the moment.

We have had bitterly cold weather again, but in spite of such a cold day yesterday our street collection brought in 475 pounds ($2375)! We are tremendously blessed to have such a splendid lot of women to work for us. That 475 pounds from the street collection sound such a lot, but actually it only runs this place for two months.

This has been my day off, and a lovely day it has been—mild and sunny. But I have tried so fruitlessly to do some shopping, that I feel a bit tired tonight. Stockings are just unobtainable. Then I tried to get some uniforms of which I am in great need, only to find that they are all out of my size. One realizes the reasons for the lack, and feels thankful for whatever one can get, but it makes shopping difficult. Drugs for the Clinic, too, are so hard to get. Many things which we have come to look on as absolute essentials are no longer to be had at all. I feel very elated tonight because I have been able to get 16 oz. of ergot today. It is most important in our maternity work and we have been almost desperate without it. It comes from Russia, most of it, hence the difficulty in obtaining it. One does not mind really going without things oneself, but when the lack endangers the lives of those in our care it is terrifying. Actually I think you folk have been lacking more than we have, judging by reports,

When Your Back Hurts
And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par
It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.
You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, cutting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

Ballet Theatre Comes to San Jose Feb. 1

The much-publicized Ballet Theatre comes to the civic auditorium, San Jose, for a single performance on Monday evening, Feb. 1, as the fourth event of the San Jose concert series. Life Magazine, Vogue, Collier's, Saturday Evening Post, New York Times Magazine, Harper's Bazaar and Time are among a few of the national publications which have devoted feature pages to the Ballet Theatre.

"Bluebeard," the top hit of the season, will be on the San Jose program. "Bluebeard" is bouncing, giddy entertainment. Aside from entertaining the customers in the best Broadway sense of the word, it offers an educational dissertation on murder, plain and fancy.

Tickets for the Ballet Theatre in San Jose are on sale at the auditorium box office, Columbia 7087.
